This no latrine dope. The landowners in the 10,800-acre area extending along 51 Highway from the old 51 crossing below Glenwild headquarters to a point near Duck Hill, thence east to the hill line, thence northward along the hill line to a point east of the point of beginning, thence west to the beginning point, have received notice "suggesting" that they make no more improvements and do no more work on their crops. This, of course means, that in a matter of days, this area will be acquired for the cantonment itself.

The people in the other parts of the proposed reservation area have been so notified. It is quite possible that people in this area may have time to plant, cultivate and harvest a crop before the government acquires the land.

Apparently, therefore ,the village of Elliott (unincorporated) will be swallowed up in the cantonment area.

The plans of the cantonment area are about complete, but I do not feel privileged to put out any definite information, for all plans, especially those of the government, are subject to sudden changes.

For the present, about 80 holders of land will be affected in the 10,800-acre cantonment area.

Thousands of stakes which, to the layman, are like a jig saw puzzle, are being driven in the area. Like the old song, however, "every little movement (stake) has a meaning all its own."

Within a very short time Grenada and the Grenada area will literally be engulfed in a flood of workmen. The Lord only knows where these thousands will stay Grenada was terribly crowded even before an army camp was suggested.

Ralph Semmes put on another Ferdinand party Monday night, and has about paid back his "party calls." Everyone not only liked Major Wade but envied his capacity, if you know what I mean.

"Miss" Lett Nason, we regret to say, has been, and still is seriously ill. She is a grand old lady.

Attention, farmers: go out Saturday and vote on the proposed creation of a Soil Conservation District in this county. If you do not thoroughly understand it, it is our advise to vote against it, for the law has a good many "bugs" in it.

There have been but a few evidences of rent profiteering in Grenada. It should be remembered that rents in Grenada have been very high ever since the hosiery mill was built.

Spring must have arrived, as Uncle Pink Horton visited in Grenada Wednesday.

Earl Burkley entertained a number of the charter members of the Ferdinand Club Tuesday evening.

The restoration work at Grenada Plywood Box Company has been little short of miraculous.

Brother H. L. Hudson, of Opp, Alabama, one of the owners of Grenada Hotel, is $2.50 poorer, and we are $2.50 richer. Guess why.

Burleson's outfit in the county court room is one of the smoothest operating units in the whole pre-planning organization. This organization is the Land Acquisition department. Countless details must receive meticulous attention.

Our article about the camp last week was copied almost verbatim in the Commercial Appeal. While we were very careful to quote Major in but one statement, that the erection of the camp had been authorized, the Commercial, we hear, put all of the rest of my words into Major Wade's mouth. We were most careful in differentiating between what the Major said and what we deducted from what we saw, no such differentiating was made in the article in the Commercial. There is nothing to be done about it, of course. Personally we did not see the article in the Commercial. Our information as to what was in the Commercial came from a high official at Glenwild, not Major Wade.

Lt. C. C. "Choppy" Andrews, Air Corps, U. S. A., dropped in to Grenada unexpectedly Wednesday to visit his mother, Mrs. H. L. Honeycutt. He is looking mighty handsome.

Claud Perry who always has o cus a little said "They are DAMN sweet."

Saturday, Spent On The Farm

(Mrs. W. W. W.)

Last Saturday was spent on the farm. Upon returning home I was asked how things looked, and my answer was, "Everything is dragging because of the rains—water is standing in the middles and the darkies are loafing." But this is really what I saw.

I walked out across the farm, following the foot path which leads to the best well on the place. I paused briefly beneath a great cypress tree and listened to a veritable bird orchestra in a near by thicket. Near—this great tree was a clump of wild plum trees in bloom and in crossing a small cotton patch, so as to enjoy their fragrant beauty, I noticed how the soft white clouds floating in the blue sky were reflected in the long fingers of water lying still in the furrows. The ground beneath the plum thicket was carpeted with brown grass studded by lady slippers and miniature wild pansies. The upmost branches of snowy white blossoms rose from a lower canopy of white, to cathedral spires of purest white The words, "My Soul doth magnify the Lord and my Spirit rejoiceth in God my Savior," ran through my head, a it seemed that this place was indeed a place of sacred beauty. As I stood there the words of my boy's last letter, "I am tired tonight, I have been practicing bayonet use today," and cognizement of all that it implied and the hurt of it, I prayed for his safety; as if in answer to my troubled thoughts, three huge bomber planes appeared in the sky and soon disappeared in the south horizon, (the farm less in the path of the north-south, air line between the Great Lakes and the Gulf.) My next stop was in a small two room cabin where a young woman, in her twenties was surrounded completely by her six bright children, the youngest being only three weeks old, and the oldest nine years of age. They were comfortable, and certainly most satisfied with their lot. I stood silent in contemplation of what this family would achieve or fail to achieve for themselves—for their country in the next quarter century. The next home was much the same. The children were not so plentiful there but were kindly and courteous to me, offering a chair and putting additional wood on the fire. The next home seemed deserted, but after one or two calls a young woman, heavy with child, came to the door. Her husband was not at home, and in her loneliness she had been crying. I recognized her as the daughter of one of my old cooks and summing up the situation hurriedly, told her to get her coat and go with me to her aunt's home about a quarter of a mile away. She dressed, made her log fire safe, and quietly followed me to the next house where our car was parked. Here I practically spent the day. We sat by the fire and talked. Ella came in, as did Jesse and Scott. I told them the legend of the Cross and reminded them of Palm Sunday, and why it is called Palm Sunday. Maria cooked our dinner of hot biscuits and home cured ham, she opened a jar of choice peach preserves and gave us water fresh from the well.

I reached home about sun down and reported that "farm work is lagging and the negroes are loafing," but what you've read here is what I really wanted to report.

Mr. and Mrs. Varter and little daughter, of Vicksburg, are making their home in Grenada at the Griffis apartment, which was vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Pendergrass earlier this week.

David Young Dubard Elected President Of Rotary Clnb

At a recent meeting, Mr. David Young Dubard, owner and manager of Hotel Barwin, was elected President of the local Rotary Club. Others elected were: George H. Fox, V. P., Sgt. at Arms, T. B. Revell, and O. D. Spratlin Secretary and Treasurer.

DAVID Y. DUBARD

The Board of Directors will be H. J. Williams, D. Y. Dubard, T. B. Revell, L. J. Doak, G. H. Fox, C. H. Calhoon and W. E. Jackson. The new officers wil be installed on July 1.

Lions Club Hold Weekly Luncheon

Last Friday in their regular weekly luncheon hour meeting the Lions Club was honored with the following distinguished guests, those connected with the Triangular Division Camp were Major John Wade, Area Engineer, Mr. W. R. Wood, Assistant Area Engineer, Lieut., Teter, Lieut. Jim Emmons and Mr. Peters who is connected with the Charles T. Main Co. The city guests were Mr. George Deaton, Mr. J. H. Oliver, Mr. Lem Boone, Mr. Billie Saunders, Mr. J. L. Cooley and Mr. Bert Bays.

A delicious plate lunch was served that was most enjoyable and a three reel technicolor picture of the Ole Miss Tulane football game was shown by Mr. Cooley and Mr. Saunders. Four new members were inducted into the club who are Rev. W. L. Robinson, Methodist minister, Mr. James Cuff, retail groceryman, Mr. Frank York, F. S. A. representative and Mr. C. W. Briscoe, retailer of tires and batteries.

The club is looking forward to its next weekly luncheon hour meeting to hear Major Wade who will speak on an unannounced subject, whether his talk will dwell on military or civil activity is not known but the event of either subject the club welcomes the Major, knowing his address will be most appropriate.—Contributed.

We have about changed our mind about the Yalobusha dam. For a long time we contended that it would not be built until after the war, if then. But additional engineers are constantly being added to the surveying crew and it NOW looks to us as if the dam will be built very soon.

Katie was quarreling because her name was never in the paper. Here it is.

Have You Registered?

A new registration of the qualified voters of the county is now being made.

The registration books and the poll books of the county were in such a mess, as any one who ever helped hold an election can testify, that the board of supervisors very wisely ordered a new registration. This purge will eliminate all dead persons, all moved-away persons and all persons not qualified to vote.

This newspaper has published several times a notice from the County Registrar, Mr. Charlie Worsham, which shows the itinerary which he will follow in carrying the books close to all the people of the county. In the event that you miss him when he is in your community, you may register as soon as possible when you are at the court house.

In order to vote your name MUST be properly registered in the NEW books. If you are already registered on the old books, you must register AGAIN; if you have never registered, do so AT ONCE. If you are 90 years of age and have not been required to pay poll tax in 40 years, you MUST register on the NEW books.

Certificates Earned By Motor Corps Members

Last Thursday night, at the auditorium of the high school, Captain Lee of the State Highway Patrol awarded certificates as follows: Mrs. Ellen Youngblood (Captain), Miss Edith Penn, Miss Margurite Finney, Mrs. Edna Alexander, Mrs. Art Quan, Miss Elizabeth Hughes, Miss Elizabeth Townsend, Miss Virginia Fielder, Miss Lucy Webb Sharp and MissElise Wilkins who have finished both the A. R. C. Motor Corps course and the O. C. D. Motor Corps course and Mrs. Evelyn Dickinson, Mrs. Cora Oltenburg, Miss Elizabeth Thomas, Mrs. Ethel Townes and Mrs. W. K. Kuhne who have finished the O. C. D. Motor Corps course, and will within a few days finish the A. R. C. course.

Mrs. Ellen Yo..., Miss Elizabeth Jones, Miss Claire Weir and Miss Virginia Williams are about to finish these courses.

Present was Miss Lena Brock, a state official of the O. C. D., who made a brief talk.

SPEAKING OF TAXES!!

We imagine when Mr. D. W. McCormick, grandfather of Mr. M. V. McCormick, paid the Sheriff, L. S. Steward, of Yalobusha County, $120 as taxes on his 160 acres of land and on his personal property in 1845, he kicked like a bay steer and predicted that the country was headed straight for hell.

Mr. M. V. McCormich has the original tax receipt which covered either 80 or 160 acres which his grandfather "took up" from the government. This land, then in Yalobusha county, is now in the so-called "Fork" part of Grenada County.

Vernon "Dinkie" Collins Is Reported "Unaccounted For"

On Saturday last, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collins, Commerce Street, Grenada, recived a telegram from Washington to the effect that their son, Vernon, known by every one as "Dinkie" Collins, was unaccounted for after naval engagements in the Pacific.

"Dinkie has served in the USN for three years, and is 27 years of age. While Mrs. Collins is reported as being prostrated on account of the receipt of this unfavorable news the family holds to the slender hope that, while "Dinkie" is "unaccounted for," he is not necesarily dead. In this hope, the people of Grenada, including the GCW, share most sincerely.

A large crowd attended the Senior play Saturday night.

Red Cross Headquarters Busy Place

The Red Cross Headquarters in Grenada is a very busy place these days. There are several ladies and one gentleman from Red Cross National Headquarters in Grenada at present. Included are Miss Jane Perry, Area Director for three counties of which Grenada is one; Miss Hazel Walmsley, of National Staff; Mrs. Mary Phillips, National Staff; Miss Elizabeth Buchanan, Area Field Supervisor; Miss Field, Supervisor for Grenada county and Mr. J. Wade Guyn, Jr. Building Superintendent for eight counties including Grenada.

Red Cross Statement of Current Aid.

Miss Perry, Area director will be here during the Red Cross job of aiding those who suffered in the recent tornado, is finished.

Miss Perry stated in an interview that the American Red Cross, the local designated to give preferential rating orders to owners of property who need items on priority lists, to rebuild their damaged property, whether they are to be recipients of Red Cross assistance or not. Miss Perry stated that two files would be maintained in the office; one of Red Cross cases and one of non Red Cross cases. Any person who feels that he will need items listed and cannot get them because of priority lists, should contact the local Red Cross office and secure proper forms to be made out. A complete list of citizens whose property was damaged, is being made, whether they are Red Cross cases or not. There are two items to which this ruling does not apply and they are tin roofing and barbed wire.

New Class On Home Nursing

The Red Cross in Civilian Defense work, announces the beginning of a new class in Home Nursing, to be taught by Mrs. Albert George, at her home on Line Street. The class is to meet on Tuesday, April 7th at 10 a. m. Those wishing to enroll for this class are to register at Civilian Defense office at Mayor's office or call Phone No. 7. If you are already registered for Home Nursing class, you are to call Mrs. George at 420 and enroll.

Air Wardens Wanted

A call for volunteers to act as local Air Raid Wardens, has been issued by the local Civilian Air Defense Warden. You are asked to register at the Civilian Headquarters, located in the Mayor's office, or see chief air Warden W. P. Moss.

The city has been divided into zones and for the protection of the city and all of its zones, fifty or more men every part of the city are requested to register at once.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

W. L. Robinson, Pastor

Everybody ought to go to church on Easter Sunday. The church should be filled with people next Sunday morning. Every available seat should be occupied. "O come let us sing unto the Lord. Let us make a joyful noise to the Rock of our salvation." We hope you will meet us at the church Sunday morning. Come to church school at 9:45 and then stay for the preaching service all eleven o'clock. Our choir will have some music for us that will be an inspiration to all of us. You certainly don't want to miss the service Sunday morning. We will be looking for you.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the following, who have helped us to more bravely bear our sad loss—Rev. Pharr, Rev. Wiley and Rev. Henderson, Mr. George Garner, Mr. Holland, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson, Dr. Avent and all doctors and nurses of Grenada Hospital, donors of blood, all circles of Presbyterian Church, Presbyterian membership, local and national Red Cross workers, Mr. Rundle, our splendid school teachers and children, Grenada Trust Bank, county and city officials, Grenada Laundry, Spotless and White Way Cleaners, Highway Patrolmen, Mrs. George Granberry, Mrs. John McEachern, Mrs. Estes Pleasants, Mrs. Lomax, Mrs. Bake Hamsley, Mr. Turner Bailey, Mr. J. M. Talbert and his force, both local papers, all who sent gifts of flowers, clothing, food, cards and money.

Signed,

T. T. Yeager and Family.

Sgts. Ralph Davis and H. D. Lane, Jr., came home from Camp Bowie on same train that our Whyte, Jr., came on. Welcome home, boys.

THURSDAY, APRIL 2, 1942

They Can't Make Us Do It But . . .

The army authorities cannot make the City of Grenada observe the meat and milk inspection laws and regulations, but these authorities can surely make the City of Grenada, and its dealers, sorry that these laws are not observed. The army is hardboiled when it comes to matter of health and sanitary regulations.

Should there be wide-spread disregard of sanitary regulations, it is within the power of the commanding officer of the army camp to put the WHOLE of Grenada "out of bounds," that is forbid ANY soldier from coming into Grenada. Should an individual cafe, store, hotel or amusement place fail to comply with proper regulations, those tabooed places will be placed "out of bounds." Places which are designated as "out of bounds" have details of Military Police stationed there to prevent the entrance of ANY soldier.

If the City of Grenada is not enforcing the meat and milk ordinance IN ITS OWN CODE for the protection of ITS OWN people—remember we say, "if"—then purely selfish interests dictate that these regulations be enforced if Grenada is to benefit to the fullest from the patronage of the soldiers.

There is an axiom in the U. S. Army, "They cannot make you do it, but they can make you sorry you didn't."

A Hell Of A Note

The GCW has freely given publicity to the local and State USO, and expects to continue to do so. Mrs. Whitaker, who writes the publicity, has received many congratulations, verbal and written, from officials of the State USO organization. We gladly donated 100 reprints from one of our issues that contained a comprehensive article, written by Mrs. Whitaker, concerning the local set-up. This article was to be distributed to the 82 counties of the state to be used as a model for local publicity. So far, so good.

We are in receipt of a letter from Mr. H. B. Durkee, asking us to quote prices on leatterheads—of which this State organization seems to have none. Mr. Durkee states that, "A recent note from our headquarters has only one stipulation in this matter, THAT ANY SUCH MUST HAVE THE UNION LABEL." That's where the hell of a note comes in. Mr. Durkee clearly is not to blame. The blame lies with national headquarters of the USO.

The USO is, we understand, designed to help furnish salutary amusement to soldiers in their leisure hours, in short to HELP the soldier. The UNION fellows thru the unscrupulous machinations of their greedy leaders, have been keeping arms and ammunitions from the hands of soldiers.

Yes, it's a hell of a note. This is the best WRITTEN evidence of what we constantly preach: that many people expect the country newspaper to carry all the FREE stuff, yet order nothing in the way of printing.

Inflation

The spectre of inflation haunts the national leaders both by day and by night.

In spite of all safeguards established by an all-powerful federal government, it is our belief that the time will come when a dollar bill will not buy a pinch of snuff. No institution, governmental or private, can continue to function indefinitely when that institution takes in less than it pays out. All institutions following a course of paying out more than is taken in, save and except the federal government, which has the exclusive right to print money, will eventually go into bankruptcy. The federal government will NEVER go bankrupt in the sense that it cannot pay its bills, unless all the paper and ink are used and unless the printing presses wear out. Uncle Sam will pay you every dollar he owes you, even if the dollar he pays back will not buy one one-hundredth as much as the dollar you lent him.

One of the best, in fact the only guard against the evil effects of inflation is the investment of SOME of your money in something you can lay your hands on—a good example of which is a slice of Mother Earth.

A man who has his assets divided between cash money and land is in an enviable position, for, come what may, he will have SOMETHING left.

Absentee Votes For Men In Service

A recent law (which, by the way, was first advocated by the GCW, and which was written and sponsored by our own Senator Winter) permits men in the armed service to register by mail and to vote by mail in the primary elections.

Briefly, here is the procedure for registration. It so happened that, in Grenada County, a new registration is in progress. The man in service who wishes to register should write C. J. Worsham, Circuit Clerk, for an affidavit form. Upon the receipt of this form, the man will fill in the blanks, then swear to it before his commanding officer and mail it back to Mr. Worsham, using the return envelope. OR the parent or some friend of the man in service should go to Mr. Worsham and ask Mr. Worsham to send this form to the man in service, who will fill in and return. One of the above steps is necessary, for, as stated, EVERYBODY, including the men in service, must register again, even if now registred on the OLD books.

Once properly registered, the man in service may vote in any primary. At the proper time in the future, we shall publish the simple procedure that the soldier must follow to vote. The payment of poll taxes by the man in service is not necessary during his term of service in the armed forces.

"Procrastination is the thief of time," therefore this important matter of registering the men in service should be attended to AT ONCE. Mr. Worsham has the proper forms.

Great Burden On Local Officers

The army camp and especially the civilian personnel attached thereto either as workmen or camp followers, and the shysters, get-rich-quick schemers, honky tonks, dance halls and saloons, will offer great problems to our local officers, especially to the Sheriff and his deputies, unless vice is permitted to run riot in the area adjacent to the camp.

Grenada will experience its greatest known influx of people, most of whom of course will be honest workmen, but many of whom will be the camp followers who prey upon the workmen and soldiers. The riff raff of the country will be more in evidence than the honest, industrious workmen for the latter will be extremely busy during working hours and ready to rest when the whistle blows. Then, too, we will have people who have barely enough money to get here and who cannot get work; we will have those who are discharged and find themselves stranded here. We will have many members of woman's oldest profession. It is these undesirable types with which the local officers will have to deal. The local officers FROM THE VERY BEGINNING should get hardboiled with these hangers-on. These hangers-on contribute nothing but disease and bad influences—both contributing to a slackening of vital work—to the community.

Honky tonks, thinly veiled harems, bootlegging and gambling joints will spring up about the perimeter of the camp like corn sprouts after a warm rain. It will take the utmost energy and aggressiveness of the sheriff's limited force to keep these things suppressed. Some trailer camps will be nothing but seraglios on wheels, if you know what we mean.

All of these undesirable places, remember, will be WITHOUT the military reservation and within the jurisdiction of the civil officers.

Our officers will avoid a lot of trouble if they get hardboiled from the very beginning, and never relax. Otherwise, we are in for much trouble from the civilian camp followers.

When the soldiers arrive, our civilan officers should work hand in glove with the Provost Marshal in some scheme whereby disorderly soldiers can be handled with least friction. This will be much more simple than handing the unorganized civilians who rush in.

The Senatorial Race

Four nags, each biting the bits, are lined up to make the race for the seat in the U. S. Senate now occupied by Hon. Wall Doxey:

Roll-em Wall of Brookhaven, has officially announced. He is said to have made a good record as Mayor of the progressive city which he calls home. He was State Administrator of the WPA and, until the death of Senator Harrison, withstood every assault made upon him by his arch enemy, Senator Bilbo. Judging from his official letterhead (printed by some union printing shop) he belongs to almost everything. We imagine from what we hear that he is going to make a greater fight on Bilbo, (not running for anything) than he does on any or all of his three opponents.

Ross Collins, who was nosed out by a few hundred votes in the special election last summer by Wall Doxey, is an almost certain candidate. He has a great asset in his ability to say, "I told you so," when referring to the lack of preparedness of America.

Wall Doxey, the incumbent, will certainly run for the full term. Whether Mr. Doxey wants to or not, he will have to wear the Bilbo brand. He will also have to explain three terrible mistakes which he made about the pension bill, viz: voting for it originally, trying to defend his vote, then reversing himself when the heat was applied.

Jim Eastland, who made a splendid fight for the cotton farmers' interests during the few months intervening between the death of Senator Harrison and the election and seating of Mr. Doxey. He has the advantage of being a "new face" among the old faces in Mississippi's turbulent and conflicting political picture. Having been appointed by Governor Johnson, he will have to bear the enmity of the Governor's enemies, and also recive the rewardof of the Governor's friends.

While we have made up our mind about our choice of horses, and will cast one vote for that horse, we are not going to curse any of them with our editorial uppart or bless any of them with our editorial opposition. If we had not quit cussing in the paper, we would say "To hell with all of them."

More Fire Fighting Equipment

"A stitch in time saves nine." Bearing this axiom in mind, we think that the City of Grenada should acquire and equip another fire station in the southern part of town.

Grenada has the same fire fighting equipment that it had when Grenada was but half its present size, when Grenada, if you please, almost ended at Hoffa Ditch.

Visualize, if you will, the chaotic condition that we would face should Grenada have TWO fires at the same time, or have ONE major fire. Visualize, if you will, the chaotic condition that we would face if our lone piece of equipment failed when a fire was raging.

It would be far wiser for Grenada to invest $12,500.00 in a new fire station and a new fire engine than in buying $12,000.00 worth of farming land.

This is a vital question to which our city fathers should give serious and immediate consideration.

We Told You So

'Way back over a year ago, we urged the City of Grenada to get together with the WPA—then urgently in need of worthwhile projects—and extend our sewer lines and water mains to care for the growing Grenada. At that time the work could have been done upon a comprehensive plan, and with little cost to the City of Grenada. Grenada's part of the funds could have been secured from the hypothecation of part of the receipts from the sale of water.

Today, in the rush incident to the probably influx of thousands of people, these extensions are said to be vitally necessary, and will probably cost the City of Grenada (even if the War Department furnishes the major part of the funds) infinitely more than these extensions would have cost under the plan we long ago urged.

Me and the U. S. A.

In spite of our gloomy predictions, Governor Johnson has made better than the average Governor.

THE STATE OF MISSISSIPPI:
To Lewis L. Phillips:

You are summoned to appear before the Chancery Court of the County of Grenada in said State, on the third Monday of April, A. D. 1942, to defend the suit No. 5526 in said court of Mrs. Lizzie M. Phillips wherein you are a defendant.

This 25th day of March, A. D. 1942.
J. P. Pressgrove, Clerk.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Social activities in Grenada for part of Holy week could be classed as n'importe, however the Junior MacDowell members are scheduled to put on quite a choice bit of entertainment Thursday afternoon when they appear before the MacDowell Musicale at their regular meeting date, the first Thursday in the month. Another social function for this week will be the annual Spring luncheon for all city clubs, on Saturday at 1 o'clock. The Garden Club members are in charge of all arrangements and are busily making preparations at this time.

Another reason for lack of social news is due to the ruling concerning fifth Mondays and Tuesdays' Auxiliaries and clubs do not meet on fifth Mondays and Tuesdays in Grenada.

THE JUNIOR MacDOWELL CLUB

The Junior MacDowell Club met on Thursday evening at the home of one of its members, June. Williams, Mary Jane Daigre, Jean Gunter, Clarene Jobe and Julia Marie Guidry were co-hostesses.

The following interesting program was given:

"Talk on the Objectives of the Club" by Miss Donaldson; Call to Order by President Margaret Green; Roll Call by Secretary Nellie Joiner; Song and Pledge by Caroline Whitaker, accompanist, Stella Irby; "Water Lillies" piano solo by Ruth Talbert. Life of MacDowell, Anne Odom, "Dedication by Franz—Girls Quartet, Catherine Herring, Sara Abel, Stella Irby, Jean Thomas. Life of Shubert—Marguite Stanley; "Four Impromptu's" Schubert, Stella Irby; Life of Friml, Jay Gore; Dance, by Friml, played by Dorothy Talbert; Life of Godard, Ruth Talbert; Coprial, by Godard, played by Julia Marie Guidry; Life of Cadman, by James Thomas; To An Evening Star, Wagner (from the Opera Taunhauser) sung by Carolyn Whitaker; "Waltz of the Flowers" by Delehis, played by Mary Jane Daigre; "Narsissus" by Nevin, played by June Williams; "The Flatterer" played by Margaret Spain.

The club voted to buy defense stamps and plans to buy a bond in September. Group singing was enjoyed by the members at the close of the program, after which delightful refreshments were served by the hostess. The club made plans for the program which is to be given for the adult MacDowell Musicale on April 2nd at the Community House. In addition to the thirtty members present, two guests Leon Provine and Leonard Trussell, members of the Glee Club and the boys quartet enjoyed the meeting.

Mrs. Blanche Mattingly, of the University of Mississippi, spent last Thursday in the home of her brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Will Martin. She came especially at this time to see her nephew, Lt. Jack Martin and bride, who were here on their honeymoon.

Mrs. Kate Thomas Russell, of Dallas, Texas, is visting in the homes of her sister, Mrs. Will Salmon and brother Mr. J. T. Thomas.

Mrs. C. B. Robertson is visiting her relatives in Tullahoma, Tenn., this and next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Orley Lilly and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Garner were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ransom in Natchez returning home Monday evening. They attended both Pilgrimages while there.

Mrs. Frank Horton, of Jackson, spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Matthews.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Davis returned from New Orleans last week and on Tuesday of this week, Mr. Davis left for Norfolk, Va., to assume his duties with the U. S. Navy.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Martin and Miss Lucille Wilbourn spent Thursday last in Jackson.

MISS DICK JONES INITIATED

Chancellor A. B. Butts discussed the value of scholarship at Ole Miss at the annual initiation banquet of Pi Kappa Pi, honorary scholastic fraternity, last Sunday night in the Union Building auditorium.

"We appreciate greatly the kind of work which you are doing" the chancellor told the members of Pi Kappa Pi; 'the record which you make will serve you well."

The initiation of six new members into Pi Kappa Pi was held Sunday afternoon in the Y Building. Those taking the vows of the fraternity were Mary Ellen Bush, Berner Cressay, Huey Howerton, Miss Dick Jones, Ruth Ray, and Watts Webb. Wilbur Thomas, who was not on the campus Sunday, will be initiated at a later date.

Membership in Pi Kappa Pi is considered the highest scholastic honor attainable by an Ole Miss student.

WOMAN'S CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

On Monday, March 23, a group of ladies of Grenada formed an organization to be known as, "The Woman's Club." The primary purpose of the club is to keep abreast of world conditions during the period of emergency and to become more familiar with the needs of our own community and thus be better able to serve in these times when conditions both nationally and locally are so rapidly changing.

On Monday evening, March 30, the club met at the Barwin Hotel and elected the following officers:

President, Mrs. Frank Gerard; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. R. C. Trusty; 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. H. W. Baker; Secretary, Mrs. Lelia Pearson; Treas. Miss Louise Perry. Regular meeting date is second Thursday night in the month at 8:15.

GHS BAND CONCERT

The Grenada High School Band will present its annual Spring concert at the High School auditorium on Tuesday, April 7, at 8 p. m. The admission will be the purchase of at least one ten cent Defense Stamp. This year's program will feature patriotic our country. Contrary to previous numbers in relattion to the history of concerts, this program will consist of fewer overtures and a greater variety of light numbers.

EPISCOPAL SERVICES

The following services were observed at All Saints Episcopal Church this week: Monday at 10 a. m. Holy Communion; Tuesday at 10 a. m. Holy Communion; Wednesday Holy Communion; Thursday evening at 7:30 Holy Communion, in commemoration of the Last Supper. Friday, three hour service, beginning at 12 o'clock and consisting of seven short sermons with prayers.

Mrs. R. W. Mullin and daughter, Mrs. H. D. Lane, Jr., spent Sunday and Monday in Birmingham, with their son and brother, Mr. Pat Mullin and family.

Mr. Harper Hughes, a native Grenadian, who has made his home in Birmingham for some years past, is being welcomed back home. He is employed at Trusty's. Mrs. Hughes will arrive about May 1st. She was here the past week-end for a visit, and was house guest of her husband's sister, Mrs. Cobb Trusty.

Mrs. Hiram Wiley, of Blytheville, Ark., was in Grenada Monday for the purpose of aiding Mrs. O. F. Lawrence in her preparations for a trip to Memphis and Blytheville. They made the trip in Mrs. Wiley's car, leaving Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Raiford Brown spent Saturday and Sunday in Hattiesburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Pendergrass, residents of Grenada for the past several years, left Wednesday to make their home in Oxford.

MORALE WILL WIN OR LOSE THE WAR

(Mrs. W. W. W.)

According tto Webster's dictionary, the word "Morale" is a moral condition; that mental state which renders a man or woman capable of endurance and of exhibiting courage in the presence of danger: the condition of troops as regards spirit, enthusiasm and discipline.

Morale in war time is morale under abnormal conditions and as morale is really mental health, many of us will do well to check on our morale or mental health right now.

"The first principle of mental health according to phcychiatrists is the acknowledgement and appropriate adjustment to reality. We must adjust our selves to the present reality, unnatural, revolting and terrifying though it is. We must curb our natural impulse to run in terror from danger or to become panic stricken, for that is to become demoralized.

All war is abnomal and unnatural; it involves the deliberate inflicting of death and suffering which goes against the grain of every parent, every doctor, nurse or scientist, the very people who are always working in precisely the opposite direction. It goes against the grain of every one who wants to live and let live. The moral thing to do is to face a danger and aided by "good" morale, plan to out do it, to refuse to face an issue, especially a dangerous one, and indulge in strong drink, sleeplessness, or phobia, are abnormal. A trained enemy could finish off a demoralized soldier in short order, but an enemy will find a different soldier to fight when he tackles one with good morale.

Our job is to keep our morale (mental health) normal and to do everything in our power to encourage normal morale in our soldiers.

Our officers in the training camps, our industrial leaders, our ministers and the recerational leaders, not forgetting the mothers, fathers, sisters and brothers of those in camp, have a great responsibility in this matter. Remember that our boys need us as greatly as we need them in the protection and salvation of our wonderful country.

Mrs. F. T. Gerard spent Sunday in Jackson with her sister, Mrs. Norma Cauldwell who accompanied Mrs. Gerard to Grenada.

Mr and Mrs. Charles Calhoon and son, of Jackson, are spending this week at their parents' home here.

Much obliged to Alf Stone for a long-winded report on State Finance. We can use the OTHER side for copy paper.

The G. C. W(offards) have moved from Sumner to Drew, but still are in the swamp.

If the GCW (and other country newspapers) used just the government free propaganda sent us for publication, we would not have to write a line. We compromise by using the OTHER side of the release for copy paper.

The old lady went down to her Oxberry plantation (?) Saturday. She might sell some of the 300 acres she owns if some of these folks who sell out to the government want to reinvest in land. She has 100 plus acres in cultivation, four houses and around 250 acres in timbered land.

Guy Fite came in during our absence and got everything straightened out for himself and his daughter, Mrs Edrie Bowen, the latter of Tupelo.

Please examine the date on your paper and see IF you are behind. If so, do the needful thing.

Better be careful how you vote on the Soil Conservation District business!!

Seen, Heard and Told

By The Editor

—V—

I admit that a person should practice what he preaches. In my own case, all of the excitement and the work, sometimes rather strenuous, are beyond my physical capacity, however hale and hearty I may appear to be; so, exercising the prerogative of the preacher who said, "Do what I SAY, not what I DO," I am going to have something to say about civilian defense work.

In the first place, Grenada is no exception in the matter of lack of general interst in the program. We read that Memphis has had great trouble in securing volunteers in the various phases of civilian defense.

We venture the assertion that not over 1 percent of our population of 6,000 has taken or is taking a sustained interest in this vital program. Some dip in and out, when social duties do not conflict.. Just a few people are earnestly trying to attain perfection in various phases of the civilian defense program.

Most people look on the program as "just something foolish that somebody got up." Few of them appreciate the fact that this war is TOTAL war and that, so far, except on the fronts where the combatants actually face each other, the civilians have had to bear the brunt of war

Many people here still think, "Oh, it can't happen to US" as if we were the annointed of the Almighty and some force, which nobody can identify, will protect US.. Singapore, Java, Paris, Denmark, Poland, and countless other countries and cities were lulled into inactivity by the specious idea, "It can't happen to US."

In spite of the fact that there is a standing invitation to unite with some phase of the program, and in spite of the fact that an office for registration is constantly open at the City Hall, only a precious few people have registered for training and for service, and FEW of THAT few have done anything about it, after registering.

In all past wars, non-combatants and their rights and property were respected as far as practical by both belligerents. In the present war, civilians are going to have to protect themselves.

Each parent agrees that it is preferable for his son to receive as much training as possible before he enters the fight, and all agree that no soldier should be put into battle until he had received the most training that circumstances would permit. Then why, in God's name, should not civilians get all possible training BEFORE they find it necessary to employ the skill and knowledge which they are urged to acquire?

The blame for this condition of unpreparedness lies not on the FEW who have earnestly sought to learn and to enlist others; but upon the MANY who are indifferent to their own peril, and of inefficient and ineffectual (as well as conflicting) State and national leadership. Many of the so-called leaders who come to Grenada parry most questions by saying, "That's not in my department," or some such inane answer.

State College is a fine source of copy paper, as we get several sheets of this paper (printed on but one side) each week. If there is a paper shortage, the thousands of government agencies have found out nothing about it.

Wonder where Brother Rook is?

Watermelon Hemphill missed his paper last Friday and came to Grenada bright and early Saturday to get another copy. He cries for it just like a baby used to cry for Castoria (if the baby ever did).

The troubles that Grenada will experience will largely be with the unorganized, undiciplined men and women who come in as camp followers. Most of us who fret about the morals of the community already have too much mileage anyway, and that should not concern us.

The saloonkeepers should do a land office business when the camp comes.

Senator Doxey made three great mistakes with regard to the pension bill, viz: by voting for it, by trying to defend his vote, THEN reversing himself when the heat was applied. Bilob did the same things, but we are going to have Bilbo with us until they screw him into the earth down at Juniper Grove.

Robert E. Lee, The South's Greatest Man, As Seen From The Shade Of The Magnolia Tree

By HERBERT B. ALLEN

In my mail last night I received a letter from the Adjutant General in Washington. Thousands of veteran officers have probably received a similar letter. Mine concludes with this paragraph:

"Your willingness to serve your country is deeply appreciated and you can be assured that every effort will be made to take advantage of your generous and patriotic offer."

The offer I made was to, "serve in any capacity, in any rank, in any part of the world, in the United States Army."

I make reference to this communication from the Adjutant General only because I intend to write, in the next few weeks, UNDER THE MAGNOLIA TREE, some very serious criticisms of persons in such high places as the White House, the Cabinet of the President, the General Staff of the U. S. Army, the powerful United States Senate Committees on Military, Naval and Foreign Affairs; and certain key figures in the industrial world.

Conservative criticism comes with better grace from a writer willing to risk his own neck in support of his convictions than from one writing from the sheltered cloisters of old age.

It is also my firm conviction that veterans, such as Whyte Whitaker, and the fellow UNDER THE MAGNOLIA TREE, enjoy special privileges when commenting on the conduct of national affairs in war time. At least, their motives and their patriotism are above suspicion.

My thoughts last night naturally turned in the direction of the army, and to comparing the generals of the past with those of the present. This article is pleasantly reminiscent, but those to follow will be definitely critical. For while I am still a civilian, I intend to put these criticisms in the record.

In the annals of American military history, no name is more honored, more revered and more loved throughout Dixie, than that of Robert E. Lee, one time distinguished officer of the U. S. Army, and later the Commanding General of the Confederate States Army.

At the present time no military name is so popular throughout the nation as that of another Southern born officer, General Douglas MacArthur.

In connection with the appointment of Fightin' Mac to the Australian command, it is very significent to note that the request for his services came from the Australian government. Apparently our General Staff had no voice in the assignment.

There was one incident in the arrival of General MacArthur in Australia that was somewhat amusing and somewhat annoying. It was the release of President Roosevelt's "order" to MacArthur to take the initiative, and attack the Japanese.

The President is a very tired and overburdened man. He would do well to place a part of his great burden upon the shoulders of young men of the type of Justice Douglas of the United States Supreme Court. That would enable him to get more sleep at night, and to act more rationally in the daytime.

MacArthur has brilliantly demonstrated his skill in the art of modern combat technique. He certainly requires no embarrassing advice from the President, on how to proceed with the defense of Australia against the Japanese. That is one subject on which I am confident the President possesses no special knowledge or qualifications.

If the President must give advice to some of our genrals on the vital question of initiative and attack, may I respectfully remind him that the General Staff of our army is within a stone's throw of the White House. A little initiative there would shine like a rainbow arching gloriously across the national sky.

A heart to heart talk between the President and General Marshall, our Chief of Staff, could do no harm. It would be a reassuring gesture for the President to demonstrate that he has both the will, and the courage, to shake up the too static minds on our high command.

In any event, General MacArthur is now solely responsible in the southwestern Pacific. Let the President lay OFF General MacArthur—and lay ON General Marshall!

There is an eighty year old, white haired soldier now living at the Walter Reid Hospital in Washington, who probably read the President's message to MacArthur with a wide grin on his lined, stern face. For in his time, General Pershing also had some experience with presidential orders.

When Pershing went to France, Woodrow Wilson was President, and Newton D. Baker was Secretary of War. The suave, dignified Woodrow was not exactly the average man's conception of a fighter; and Newton was an out and out pacifist. They were a curious pair to be directing the war effort of a great nation. Such is the working of democracy!

But there were trans-Atlantic cables to France, and Wilson and Baker kept them warm. An officer, a former aide to Pershing, once told me about those cablegrams.

He declared that Pershing would have given more attention to advice from the clowns in Ringling Brothers Circus than he gave to those cables from Wilson and Baker. No doubt MacArthur will know how to dispose of advice accordingly.

The President's instructions to MacArthur, to take the initiative and attack the Japanese was most poorly timed. The British had lost Hong Kong, and then Malaya; with the capitulation of the great naval base at Singapore, England had suffered her most stunning defeat in the Empire's long history.

Then the Dutch lost Borneo. The Celebes disappeared into Japan's great maw, then Sumatra, and finally Java. The news was belatedly released that the fleet of the United Nations in the southwestern Pacific had been virtually destroyed.

On the heels of this series of major disasters MacArthur arrived in Australia. And on his arrival there, the President's "attack" message was given to the world. A very strange coincidence—but one lacking in both logic, and in military sense.

It is so long since I have written anything about the old Confederate generals that Judge Clayton will be thinking that my "Southern" blood has congealed, now that I am in Chicago. As a matter of fact, it is snowing here today, the Sunday before Easter!

Well, Robert E. Lee and Douglas MacArthur have a great deal in commen. Both Southerners, they took high honors on graduating from the U. S. Military Academy: Lee was second man in his class—MacArthur first in his.

Both Lee and MacArthur were to return to West Point as Superintendents of the Academy. Lee introduced the present smart discipline at West Point, and lengthened the course to five years. West Point was never smarter than under MacArthur.

Both cadets entered the service as 2nd lieutenants in the Engineers. Both performed their first distinguished services as captains in Mexican campaigns.

Lee placed American artillery in position to bombard Vera Cruz. Generations later, MacArthur penetrated the Mexican lines behind Vera Cruz, and located locomotives which Americans captured and used to excellent advantage.

Lee was detailed to Vera Cruz at the express order of General Scott. American commander-in-chief. And in three subsequent battles in the Mexican campaign, Lee distinguished himself by such outstanding physical and moral bravery that he was given three successive promotions on the field of honor: reaching the rank of colonel.

At the conclusion of the Mexican War, General Scott, in citing Colonel Lee for gallant and meritorious services, credited him with being, "the greatest living soldier in America."

Just recently I wrote of MacArthur's personal heroism during the Mexican campaign of 1914; and of his great record in France, first as the chief of staff, and later as the commanding officer of the famous 42nd (Rainbow) Division. General Pershing decorated him on the field in France, praising his courage in the highest terms.

Both Lee and MacArthur were endowed with those remarkable qualities of character and ability that are the earmarks of great generals. Both had distinguished records as young combat officers; and as commanders they exercised sound military judgment, were capable of quick decisions, and were gifted with rare qualities of personal magnetism. May General MacArthur continue successfully in the great tradition!

Last summer I was walking over the old battlefield at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, along the roads, and through the fields, over which marched the flower of the Old South. I followed the path of the Southern regiments over which they made the great attack on Cemetery Ridge.

On that field the Southern Cause was lost. On that field Lee suffered his greatest military reverse. On that field Lee shone most grandly as a Southern soldier and gentleman.

Every Northern military historian describes that charge of the Confederates in the most glowing terms. Never has the Anglo-Saxon heart and spirit moved forward to attack with more reckless courage—with more unflinching gallantry with more stubborn persistence.

Some Dixie regiments lost eighty percent of their personnel at Gettysburg. The Gray waves met a murderous and withering fire from the Northern defenders of Cemetery Ridge.

When the tide of battle finally turned against the South, Lee met a column of some fifteen thousand of his exhausted veterans falling back toward the Potomac River. He addreessed his men, and on the spot he assumed full responsibility for their defeat.

And on the spot, by the sheer nobility of his own magnanimous conduct and deportment, Lee transformed his discouraged and disappointed soldiers into another calm, confident Confederate States Army!

Virginia's magnificent monument to Lee, at Gettysburg, is well and appropriately located. Few generals in history have possessed the compelling qualities of character and personality to enable them to command such confidence and affection from their troops, in the very shadow of a major military reverse. I use the term "reverse" deliberately. The word defeat could never be associated with the name of Robert E. Lee.

Much of the best blood of the South was shed at Gettysburg. I only wish that every Southerner might have the privilege of visting that great battle field. No person may tread upon that historic soil without experiencing a profound sense of how drastically that loss is still felt in the South today.

In my humble opinion, the great dearth of leadership, initiative and resourcefulness in the South, and our present social, economic and financial evils, trace directly to the loss of the cream of Southern manhood during the War for Southern Independence. This grave loss outweighes all other historic and natural causes combined.

It often occurs to me that there are many parallels between the history of England and the history of the Southern states. In the world war, England lost, out of her population of forty millions, more than one million, one hundred thusand of her finest young men, killed or died of wounds. No one can claim that England today does not feel the grave loss of those young, aspiring, ambitious legions.

By the Spring of 1865, Lee's army had been reduced to an organization of half-starved, half-clothed, hungry, shoeless and munitionless veterans. They ranged from boys in short pants, to grandfathers in their sixties. They had three things in common. They were all hungry—they all loved General Lee—they had all carried on to the limits of human endurance.

Finally, through some error, Lee's supply column went astray. Lacking even starvation rations for his famished soldiers, Lee had nothing with which to either advance or retreat. No alternative remained but to surrender.

After four years of bitter struggle, and total sacrifice, surrender involved the loss of the Southern Cause. But in that dark hour of the Confederacy, the Appomattox Court House, the magnificent Lee received a tribute of affection and esteem from his ragged veterans that compensated for all the strain of the high command.

No wonder Gen. Grant refused to retain Lee's sword as the symbol of surrender! During my daily walks in Chicago's Lincoln Park, I usually pass the beautiful monument erected to Grant's memory, and always with a warm glow of gratitude to Grant for his chivalrous [illegible] toward General Lee at Appomattox. Blood is thicker than water. Both men had been West Point cadets.

The golden example of Robert E. Lee's patriotism may well be emulated by all Southerners, for General Lee's great stand for the South was chiefly rooted in patriotism for his native soil.

Lee was opposed to slavery, and had liberated his own slaves. He described the institution of slavery as, "a moral and political evil in any country." He was also strongly opposed to disruption of the Union.

But, as he wrote to his son, "A Union that can only be maintained by swords and bayonets, and in which strife and civil war are to take the place of brotherly love and kindness, has no charm for me. I shall mourn for my country, and for the welfare and progress of mankind. If the Union is dissolved and the government disrupted, I shall return to my native state and share the miseries of my people and, save in defense, will draw my sword on none."

General Lee had commanded the [illegible] soldiers who suppressed the John [illegible] rebellion. One of the young officers who accompanied him later to become the famous military officer, General J. E. B. Stuart.

On April 18th, 1861, President Lincoln sent a personal message to General Lee, in which he offered the Virginian the command of the United States Army.

But first and foremost, Robert E. Lee was a Southerner. And his sterling devotion to the South is worthy of our serious consideration. For there is nothing our beloved country needs more desperately today, than the genuine evidence of TRUE patriotism.

The South has always produced military genius. The land that produced George Washington, Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson will always be the world in this dark hour of struggle.

Today the South goes to the nation to America and the white democracy of the South pays tribute to the peerless patriot, for the future, a gentle southern gentleman—General Douglas MacArthur, of Arkansas.

To General MacArthur in Australia go most earnest hopes for success from the South. To Mrs. MacArthur, of Tennessee, and to her little Philippine born son, go the prayers of the Southland.

That the Southland is proud of General's side by side with the Japanese assigned to the quiet pride of every daughter of the South. Her intention to organize of MacArthur wherever they may go, as is also noted by the folks back home. More power to the MacArthurs—God bless them.

Pull the Trigger on Constipation, with Ease for Stomach, too

When constipation brings on discomfort after meals, stomach upset, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative-Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with Syrup Pepsin for perfect ease to your stomach in taking. For years, many Doctors have given pepsin preparations in their prescriptions to make medicine more agreeable to a touchy stomach. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines to bring welcome relief from constipation. And the good old Syrup Pepsin makes this laxative so comfortable and easy on your stomach. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin, as directed on label or as your doctor advises, and feel world's better. Get genuine Dr. Caldwell's.

THE TRANSFIGURED CHRIST MEETS HUMAN NEED

LESSON TEXT—Luke 9:28-43a.
GOLDEN TEXT — And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God.—Luke 9:43.

Glory and grace go together. Spirituality finds meaning in service. Holiness is faith in action. Every fine emotion should be translated into conduct.

This is the message of our lesson as it presents the transfigured Christ and the disciples, moved beyond intelligent words by His transcendent glory, going forth into the valley to meet the need of demon-ridden humanity.

I. Amazing Glory (vv. 28-36).

To three of the disciples came the privilege of seeing in the mount the outshining of the deity of Christ through the humanity of His flesh in such amazing glory that Peter could think of nothing more wonderful than to prolong the experience by tarrying in the mount.

One could wish that it were possible in presenting this lesson to get over into the thinking of those who read or hear, a proper conception of the glory of our Christ, but words seem to be such weak and insufficient instruments. One would cry out—"Look at Him—the Son of God with the transfigured face—and the light of heavenly glory shining forth in a dazzling whiteness" (literally, like lightning).

If men would only look upon Him, they would see how untrue are those who take from Him His deity, who speak of Him as only a good man or a great teacher. He, our Saviour, who took upon Himself the limitation of our flesh, was and is eternally God.

Significant it is to note that with Him on the mount were Moses and Elijah. The former had died (Deut. 34:5, 6) and the latter had been translated without death (II Kings 2:11), but both were alive, recognizable, intelligent, interested in the redemptive work which Christ was to work out on the cross (v. 31). This definitely denies such false theories as soul-sleep or annihilation at death.

But the vision of glory becomes a means of blessing as we see

II. Amazing Grace (vv. 37-43a).

Like Peter, there are many folk who think that the thing to do is to remain on the mountaintop, just enjoying the vision of glory and the delightful fellowship of Christ and the redeemed. They do not learn such things from Christ or from the Word of God. The next day (v. 37) He and the disciples met the cry of an anguished father whose boy was possessed of a demon and who had found no help (v. 40). Look then upon the one whose unspeakable glory has just been revealed in the mount, who has just had the approval of God the Father (v. 35), who now in amazing grace meets the need of this humble child! There is the grace of God, manifest in the One whom we as Christians profess to follow. Let us like Him bring the glory of God and (in His name) the power of God to bear upon the need of men.

It seems to the writer of these notes that God is waiting to do a new thing in the midst of human suffering and sorrow — working through His disciples. We need first of all to know Him ourselves, as our own Saviour and Lord. Then we need a vision of His glory, flooding our souls and transforming our lives (Rom. 12:1, 2). Then, we must put that glory and that power to work through our lives. The one who follows Christ cannot be satisfied to rejoice in his own salvation and not reach out to win others. He cannot rest in the peace of soul which Christ gives and not put forth his hand to those who struggle in "life's wild restless sea." He must (as Matt. 5:16 puts it) let his light so shine in the darkness that men may find their way to the Father's house and thus glorify the name of God.

God does His work in the world through redeemed men and women. He is always seeking those who, having seen the glory of Christ and with His grace upon them, are ready to be used of the Holy Spirit for His glory. "What the church needs today is not more machinery or better, not new organizations or more novel methods, but men whom the Holy Ghost can use—men of prayer, men mighty in prayer. The Holy Ghost does not flow through methods but through men. He does not come on machinery, but on men. He does not anoint plans, but men" (E. M. Bounds).

Need Compassion

I do not know how any Christian service is to be fruitful if the servant is not primarily baptized in the spirit of a suffering compassion. We can never heal the needs we do not feel. Tearless hearts can never be the heralds of the Passion. We must pity if we would redeem. We must bleed if we would be the ministers of the saving blood.—J. H. Jowett.

Nancy's Lessons

By SALLY MADISON
(McClure Syndicate—WNU Service.)

DICK WALTON put his spectacles on with precision, opened the solid geometry book to the fifty propositions, and straightened up in his chair on the wide, open terrace where he and Nancy Jenkins sat in the cool morning shadow of the big stone house. Nancy, opposite him, placed a pair of round-eyed spectacles on her pretty nose, opened her book, and likewise straightened her back.

"Ahem!" said Nancy. And then she looked over the tops of her absurdly large spectacles so penitently that Dick was completely disarmed. "I am sorry I mimicked you," she said, "but you're so funny when you're dignified."

Dick ignored this remark and plunged valiantly into the geometry lesson. "We've got to stop wasting so much time," he said.

Nancy turned over the well-worn pages of her book. "I've been studying so hard since you came," she said—"or at least I thought I had."

But Dick tried to keep Nancy's wandering thoughts—and his own disturbed heart—on the geometry lesson. "You see, Miss Jenkins," he started.

"Don't you 'Miss Jenkins' me," said Nancy. "It sounds as if you were cross with me. The day we went riding on the mountains together you weren't cross like that—and you never once called me Miss Jenkins, either."

"I am paid by your father to teach you," said Dick sternly. "If it weren't for that it would be different. Then I'd do what you want to, of course."

"Let's go riding on the mountain again today," said Nancy. "We've studied here almost an hour."

"Studied!" echoed Dick with disgust. "Now, Nancy, you've only three more weeks before you have to take your examination to make up your geometry condition, and you've got to work."

"I'll go tell Michael to saddle the horses," called Nancy from the steps, "and then I'll tell cook to make a picnic lunch, and we'll start in half an hour."

But Dick was beside her before she could get away, and had grasped her small, strong wrist in his firm, strong fingers.

"I shan't allow you to go," he said. "I'm here to teach you, and I shan't allow you to go."

"You!" exclaimed Nancy, angrily. "You dare say you'll not allow me to do anything! Let me go!"

Still Dick barred her way.

"You treat me like a child," stormed Nancy.

"I don't care," said Nancy. "You're not the only tutor in the world."

They were both angry and excited, and suddenly both repented of their hasty words. Dick apologized.

"My fault," said Nancy. "And now that you're nice again, let's go riding."

So they spent the day on the mountainside, riding and resting, their lunch strapped to Dick's saddle, and didn't get home till late afternoon. And then, as he dressed for dinner, Dick had time to think things over.

He had had the summer free—after finishing one engineering job, and while waiting for another that would begin in September. And, so he had taken a job as tutor to Nancy Jenkins. Her father was rich, and her mother was dead. "And you see," Mr. Jenkins had told Dick, "she needs looking after. She's been a year in college—but she doesn't like it, and she flunked in geometry—has a condition to make up this fall. She needs a lot of stiff tutoring."

After dinner that night he put the case to Mr. Jenkins honestly—or at least honestly so far as his work with Nancy was concerned. He didn't, then, tell Mr. Jenkins that he was in love with Nancy. But he told Nancy's father that he must leave, at once. That he was a failure as Nancy's tutor.

Mr. Jenkins, who obviously liked Dick, listened attentively to his explanation. Then he said:

"Well, that's all right. If you can stand it. I don't mind her not learning anything more. She knows enough. She's a mighty fine girl—but I suppose she's lonely. Since her mother died, you see, she has been lonely. She loves the outdoors, and I can't be with her much. You'll stay, won't you?"

Dick went to his room that night without giving an answer.

Next morning, however, he met Nancy on the open porch for their lesson as usual.

"I'm sorry I was so disagreeable and difficult yesterday," said the girl sweetly. "But didn't we have a good time on the mountain? You know, you're the only person I ever knew, except dad, who can enjoy the woods and things with me. I wish I was an engineer and could go out west with you—" she paused, and Dick heard his heart thumping. "You must think I'm very stupid about geometry." A tear glistened on her long lashes. "But you see, I don't want to go back to college. I could have studied harder, and I'm really not so dumb—but I hate college—and I don't want to go back. You make geometry so clear, I'm almost understanding it—but I don't want to."

Dick didn't wait to hear more.

"Nancy dear," he said, leaning over the table and taking her hands in his, "could you possibly mean you'll marry me?"

We Can All Be
EXPERT BUYERS
• In bringing us buying information, as to prices that are being asked for what we intend to buy, and as to the quality we can expect, the advertising columns of this newspaper perform a worth while service which saves us many dollars a year.
• It is a good habit to form, the habit of consulting the advertisements every time we make a purchase, though we have already decided just what we want and where we are going to buy it. It gives us the most priceless feeling in the world: the feeling of being adequately prepared.
• When we go into a store, prepared beforehand with knowledge of what is offered and at what price, we go as an expert buyer, filled with self-confidence. It is a pleasant feeling to have, the feeling of adequacy. Most of the unhappiness in the world can be traced to a lack of this feeling. Thus advertising shows another of its manifold facets—shows itself as an aid toward making all our business relationships more secure and pleasant.

JUST JESTING

Overwhelming

At the breakfast table the sweet young thing's dad was rebuking her for having let her caller of the evening before, a sergeant-major, kiss her.

"But, daddy," she remonstrated, "I but yielded to the majority."

Watch Your Kidneys!
Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste
Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery.
Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength.
Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.
There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

Practical Attitude Will Not Spoil Fun of Easter Paraders

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

THE 1942 Easter style parade will be more than a mere display of chic and flattering apparel. Not that it will be lacking in feminine charm, for the new fashions are as intriguing and eye-appealing as bright, pretty accessories can make them. However, it is with a two-fold purpose that women are selecting their Easter outfits and assembling their spring wardrobes. Women are not choosing their new clothes from the viewpoint of attractiveness alone, but back of it all is a steadfast desire to buy wisely, purposefully and thoughtfully with an eye to the future.

The present sane, careful, wholesome buying movement demands expression, and from all reports and appearances, that expression is the suit of handsome material styled softly and becomingly with a versatility that reveals a fresh fashion inspiration that has been born of war needs.

Women are becoming alertly "fabric wise." They want quality materials that are given an undated styling which will carry them valiantly through more than the current season. They are regarding wool weaves in a new light, knowing full well they must buy wool with a view to serviceability, long wear, as wool supplies for civilian use are being reduced as rapidly as the requirements for army service are expanding. It behooves every woman to take jealous care of her wool suits, dresses and coats these days, for most of the newer fabrics will have but a percentage of wool.

Color is the big news for suits. With a fine philosophy our style creators have worked out the problem of making the suit that is designed to be utterly utilitarian radiate a message of cheer in such striking colors as geranium red, ivy green, spring-like yellow, hyacinth blue and related bright hues.

Accessories are creating such a splurge of color they give to suits a brightness that radiates throughout the entire spring fashion picture. Especially smart with navy suits and gray wools, and also with checks and stripes, are vivid gloves, bags, shoes and hats. And don't forget plaids when choosing the new suit or coat. They are more important than ever.

Covert is a leading fabric for spring. We see this sturdy fabric in the trim man-tailored suit shown at the top left in the above illustration. Instead of a coat it has a modish cape for dash and extra warmth. Capes will be seen more and more as the months go by. This serviceable ensemble is in tan. Coverts are also being widely shown in defense blue. Both colors take vivid accessories beautifully.

The novelty flannel plaid suit pictured to the right above is young and cheerful. In red and soft gray tones, it has a generously pleated skirt and a snug fitting double breasted jacket which buttons high and is accented by four vertical pockets.

Fine spun rayon gabardine brings its nice tailoring to fashion the costume to the left, below, in the above illustration. The fitted high-buttoned jacket sports three large pockets, while the skirt is styled with trim box pleats.

Novelty jeweled buttons mark the front closing of the jet black rich rayon faille suit to the right, below, in the above picture. The high, rounded lapels, flap pockets and kick-pleated skirt are excellent fashion points. A flaring milan straw bonnet with grosgrain edging adds distinction to this costume.

Pictured to the right in the inset in the above picture is a wool plaid greatcoat belted in leather which, because of its good looks and hard-wearing qualities, is a "must" in every active woman's wardrobe. This huge block plaided sturdy go-everywhere tweed is in a wonderful color blend of deep blue, dark wine and beige. It is beautifully fitted, with full straight sleeves and dashing skirt lines.

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Jersey Jacket

It's smart to be sleeveless. New on the spring fashion program is the sleeveless jacket worn with a simple shirtwaist dress. The New York creation illustrated in the above picture scores high in style credits. The dress is fashioned of a bow-knot print. The jacket of wool jersey highlights the lighter tones of the printed design, and is distinctive because in addition to being sleeveless it has huge patch pockets and a sewed-in belt.

Taffeta Is a Popular Fabric for Accessories

A new trend in fashion this season is the use of taffeta for trimming. It is being used for piping, pleating, bordering, wide tie-girdles, yoke treatments, pockets and in countless other intriguing ways.

One of the latest versions is the navy dress piped and trimmed with navy taffeta. There is also a liberal use of taffeta in contrast colors, and taffeta plaid hats and bags have a high style rating.

Playtime Aprons

Children will take great delight in the novel aprons of bright prints. They have huge pockets to hold a sewing outfit for little girls, or a set of garden tools for boys, or perhaps a drawing set for either.

White Hats

Milliners are creating most attractive little white hats this spring to be worn with suits or ensembles. They are styled with a view to flattery and many have sprightly little dotted white veils.

Chevrons

A patriotic gesture is the trimming of junior hats, blouses and sailor suits with gaily colorful chevrons and stars. You can buy these motifs all ready to applique.

Unbleached Muslin

Cottons will be worn extensively this spring and summer. There is promised a plentiful use of unbleached muslin dyed in rich colors.

Speed of Golf Balls

The United States Golf association has recently ruled no golf ball can have a velocity greater than 250 feet per second. The association has so ruled to eliminate the threat of causing present golf courses to become obsolete because of the far-traveling golf ball. The velocity of the balls can be regulated by controlling pressure on the core of the ball and tightness of the rubber wrappings.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Enameled bathtubs may be cleaned with a tablespoon of dry salt, moistened with spirits of turpentine—not too wet. Then wipe it over with a clean cloth.

CITIZENSHIP TOPIC OF HONOR SOCIETY MEETING

At the regular meeting of the local chapter of the National Honor Society Monday, the program topic was CITIZENSHIP. Lucy Moss, program chairman for the afternoon, stressed the general importance of good citizenship. James Thomas, discussing Your Many-Sided Life, emphasized the cultivation of certain traits of good citizenship. Hazel Turner, using the topic, Living and Working in the Home, showed the importance of the home in building good citizenship. Louise Avent, president of the local chapter, read impressively the poem "The Land Where Hate Should Die."

After the program routine business matters were discussed, and a report of the sale of defense stamps was made. Through the efforts of the local chapter approximately one hundred dollars worth of defense stamps has been sold in the schools.

WITH G. H. S. GRADS

At Belhaven—

Helen Horton, G. H. S. graduate in the 1938 class, has been chosen as May Queen at Belhaven College. Helen is noted in her school for her soprano voice, and also for her "good looks" personality, and ability.

Gene Manders, classmate of Helen, was chosen as President of the Belhaven student body for '42-43 session. Gene is without a doubt one of the most gifted pianists that have ever been in G. H. S.

At Ole Miss—

William Winter, class of '40, is the newly-elected president of the Mississippi Scholastic Press Association. William is the circulation manager for the "Rebel", business manager of the "Mississippian" and well, well, we could go on about his achievements.

John (Poor) Keeton, class of 41, is a valuable member of the Ole Miss glee club.

At All Saints—

Dorothy Whitaker, class of '40, who is President of the All Saints Interrelation Club, attended a national Interrelation meeting at Georgia Tech last week. Dorothy took part in the round table discussion.

At Woods Junior College—

Former editor of the BULLDOG, Katy Carlisle, and Camilla Smith, are on the annual staff at their school. Katy just naturally has "Newspaper" in her blood and we know she's doing a good job. Miss Smith is in the photography department, which has always been one of her pet hobbies.

GRENADA VS. OAKLAND

The first baseball game of the year was played here Tuesday afternoon between Grenada and our northern neighbor, Oakland. Our boys seemingly are in "tip-top" condition, for the score at the end of the seven-inning game showed that our boys had 16 points. The Oakland boys didn't even get a man on third and likewise didn't even score.

In there swinging and pitching for Grenada was lean, lanky Shed Hill. Thomas, who fanned more than a few Oakland dwellers. The other G. H. S. players just as ably held down their positions. Bet Thompson, who got the longest hit and run of the game, is on first base; Billie Buck Shaw, is on second base; "Bee" Collins is on third base; Jack Ward is catcher; Edgar Turnipseed is center field; Lewis Barranco is right fielder; "Rookie" Moore is left fielder; and Pip Kettle is short stop. The fielders din't fail to catch any "fly" that came their way. The next game will be this Thursday at Oakland.

While we are on the baseball subject, we want to urge more people to come. The boys need moral support. From the looks of the small attendance at the Tuesday game, it seemed that not so many people were interested in the boys. Cou know thatt's not true—so come out to the next home game. The admission is only ten and twenty cents.

FIELD MEET COMING

It seems that the annual field meet in tennis, track, music and expression has "sorta" crept up on us this year. It is to be Saturday, April 4th. The music and expression group will meet in Grenada, and track and tennis meets will be held at Duck Hill.

Since last year there have been many changes in the program. Last year the contestants rated as first, second, thirds and etc. This year they will be rated as superior, excellent, good, and etc. This makes it possible for more than one school to be rated superior. The contest will be open to the public and there will not be finals at night as last year. The contest will be held both in the G. H. S. auditorium and the community house.

Laverne Wilson, last year's state winner in expression, will be G. H. S.'s representative in expression. tIt is also undecide which quartet will enter. The mixed glee club will sing Cadman's "The Builder." The track contestants will be named later.

STYLE HIT PARADE

Have you seen Lil's new spring flowered two-piece dress she's been sporting 'round. It makes you feel and know that old man spring is really here.

The G. H. S. gals have gone "batty" on the subject of toeless sandals. They are just a strip of leather, a buckle, and a shoe sole. They are medicine for the "hot-foot."

Miss Waller's new light blue suit is a "knock-out". It is a mannish tailored suit that makes Miss Waller look just like a school gal.

M. M. Juchheim, better known as "Jucky," has a new blue and white striped shirt that will make you look at it more than once. Speaking of shirts, the boys have started wearing shirt tails out; i. e. Byrd Trussell.

We can't go on any further in the column without making some comment on our coach—Mr. Hathorn. Did you see him in that "get-up" he had on at the baseball game Tuesday? All inquirise as to the origin of the hat failed to gain the desired information. But he did look comfortable!

WISECRACKS

Soph. Buddie Avent: Come on, take a bath, and get cleaned up, and I'll get you a date.

Fresh. Granberry: (cautiously) Yeah, and then suppose you don't get me that date?

Mr. Norsworthy: When the room settles down I will begin the lecture.

T. D. McCleod: Why don't you just go on home and sleep it off?

Rookie: Do you believe in clubs for women?

Turnip: Yes, but only when kindness fails.

Papa: (looking cautiously into the living room of a fraternity house) Does Johnny Nichols live here?

Voice from inside: Yeah, just lay him on the couch.

BAD NEWS

On April 7, at eight o'clock, the Grenada High School Band will present its annual Spring concert in the High School auditorium. Admission will be the purchase of at least one ten-cent Defense Stamp which will be on sale at the door. The band is using a patriotic theme for this year's program with many familiar marches. Contrary to most preceding concerts, there will be fewer overtures, and a greater variety. Support your band before it goes to contest by attending the concert. Besides hearing this very entertaining program, you will be doing your bit for National Defense.

DIRT

Since the community house was closed Saturday, Lil offered her house for dancing and partying purposes. Those seen cutting the rug were: Beebe and Rogers; Lil and Rowe; Berta and Ernest; Warren and his Delta flame, Betty Willsford; Margaret Green and Lynn; and A. K. and Larry.

The Physics sages have turned over a new leaf since coach has been slinging out quizzes every day.

Jean and Sara Lou took a Civil Service Exam the other day and we hope they come out with flying colors.

Did you know? Dot Talbert made 68 words and 3 errors on her field meet 15-minute speed test? Congratulations!

SENIOR RHYMES

By NELLIE JOINER

A is for Avent, Abel, and Andrews;
These are the girls we would choose.

B is for Bloylock and Barrentine;
The way they stumble, you'd think they were blind.

C is for Clogston, Cullen, Calloway and Cohen;
Who knows, but that some day they'll behoeing.

D is for Daigre and Duncan, too;
But they are quite different, it is true.

E is for Elliott, one of a kind;
But he really doesn't seem to mind.

F is for Floyd—Juanita is her name;
To be a good stenographer is her aim.

G is for Gammon—Lambert forsooth;
But poor Little Brother is minus a tooth.

H is for Hallam, Horton, Hendrix, Herring, Hill, and Hale;
We know that tese six will climb the scale.

I is for intelligence, of which no class has more;
For of brains we have an abundant store.

J is for Joiner and the Joneses too;
After school they will find something else to do.

K is for Keeton, King, and Kettle;
All men of the finest fettle.

L is for Lane—cute as pie;
We know of no one with whom she would tie.

M is for Martindale, McCaulla, Mitchell, McLeod, and Moss;
The latter we know now is boss.

N is for our number—a class of 53;
In high school next year may none of them be.

O is for Odom—Anne and Mary Ida;
All we can say, is that they are as "sweet as apple cider."

P is for Prather and also Provine;
These boys, the girls say, do have a line.

Q is for all the Seniors—quick;
Everyone says "this class is the pick."

R is for Richardson—Polly to you;
There's a certain Sophomore to whom she is true.

S is for our class, always on top;
A class whose good work will never stop.

T is for Talbert, Theisman, Thomas, Thompson, Turner and Trussell;
Five of these are athletes to build up their muscles.

U is for us, the Senior class of '42;
To Grenada Hi, we have always been true.

V is for Vickery, a very good sport;
But none of these girls does he court.

W is for Wilson, Whitaker, and Ward;
Three who always work very hard.

X is for the extra work we have done;
More for Miss Turner than any other one.

Y is for youth, these Seniors you see;
Always going forward they hope to be.

Z is for zeal, of which the school is flowing;
So Goodbye, Grenada Hi; keep things going.

YOU can't get a new automobile for private use, for love or money and even used tires are going to be scarce, if you can get them at all. But, apart from these obvious facts, the American motoring public is facing a drastic price rise in nearly every department which has to do with the operation and maintenance of a motor vehicle.
Tri-State, with its connecting carriers, offers you frequent schedules daily to most points in the United States and Canada. A lot of the driving you do is unnecessary anyway because Tri-State can take you there for one-third of the cost and much more safely. If you'll limit the use of your automobile and try modern bus travel when possible for the duration, we'll wager that after it's all over you'll ride Tri-State busses from choice—and the savings will surprise you.
